4. Beginning not later than approximately February, 1998, defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, with the assistance of others, began soliciting investors for an investment scheme to be marketed by the defendants, and by others acting as agents for the defendants. The investment program was represented to potential investors to involve a pool of funds that would be invested in a program to trade European financial instruments that would lead to fantastic returns for the investors, with no risk to the principal invested.

II. THE CONSPIRACY

5. Beginning at a date no later than approximately November 24, 1997, and continuing through approximately August 13, 1999, in the Counties of Sacramento and Stanislaus, and other counties in the State and Eastern District of California, and elsewhere, defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, together and with others both known and unknown to the Grand Jury, willfully and knowingly combined, conspired, and agreed among themselves to commit offenses against the United States of America, to wit, to commit: (i) securities fraud in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77q(a) and 77x; (ii) sale of unregistered securities in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77e(a)(1) and 77x; and (iii) delivery of unregistered securities in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77e(a)(2) and 77x; all in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 371.

6. It was a part and object of the conspiracy that defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, and their co-conspirators, willfully offered and sold securities by the use of means and instruments of transportation and communication in interstate commerce, and by use of the mails, while directly or indirectly (a) employing a device, scheme and artifice to defraud, (b) obtaining money and property by means of untrue statements of material fact and omissions of material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, and (c) engaging in transactions, practices or courses of business which operated as a fraud and deceit upon the purchasers of such securities, in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77q(a) and 77x.

7. It was further a part and object of the conspiracy that defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, and their co-conspirators, willfully made use of means and instruments of transportation and communication in interstate commerce, and of the mails, to sell securities for which no registration statement was in effect, in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77e(a)(1) and 77x.

8. It was further a part and object of the conspiracy that defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, and their co-conspirators, willfully caused to be carried through the mails and in interstate commerce, for the purpose of sale or delivery after sale, securities for which no registration statement was in effect, in violation of Title 15, United States Code, Sections 77e(a)(2) and 77x.

MANNER AND MEANS OF THE CONSPIRACY

9. In furtherance of the conspiracy, defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, DAVID BAXTER, ROXANNE ALBAUGH, and JOHN R. WITZKE, and other co-conspirators acting at their direction, employed, among others, the following ways and means:

A. Defendants WILCOXSON, ALBAUGH and WITZKE created JRAM International Enterprises ("JRAM") and IFR Trust, through which they marketed the scheme to potential investors nationwide, and recruited other persons with existing businesses and entities to act as agents in marketing the scheme to potential investors, and signed agreements with such agents to pay them a percentage of the return on invested funds.

B. The defendants WILCOXSON, ALBAUGH and WITZKE created IFR Limited, based in the Bahamas, and opened a bank account in the Bahamas on behalf of IFR Limited, for purposes of controlling funds gathered in the course of the scheme through a bank account that was beyond the reach of United States law enforcement and taxing authorities.

C. The defendants caused investment solicitations on IFR Trust letterhead to be transmitted by mail and by wire to potential investors throughout the United States and in other countries.

D. The defendants and other co-conspirators falsely represented to potential investors and agents that they had access, through defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and/or DAVID BAXTER, to a privileged, private investment program involving specialized trading in financial instruments issued by European banks, which program was not available to the general public.

E. The defendants and other co-conspirators falsely represented to investors and potential investors that their investments in the program marketed by the defendants would be virtually risk-free, with investors' funds fully secured by a promissory note, and/or a financial insurance policy issued by a legitimate insurance company, and/or a line of credit at a major bank, and/or that the invested funds would remain unencumbered in a "blocked funds account" at a bank.

F. The defendants and other co-conspirators falsely represented to investors and potential investors that their investments in the program marketed by the defendants would generate profits of up to 50% per month.

G. The defendants and other co-conspirators falsely represented to investors and potential investors that the trading program through which the profits were generated was regulated by entities such as the International Chamber of Commerce, the Federal Reserve Board, or other national and international agencies, or that the invested funds were deposited with the World Bank.

H. The defendants and other co-conspirators falsely represented to investors and potential investors that the defendants had many years of experience with such trading programs, that they were highly knowledgeable about such programs, and that they and/or their clients had been financially successful through participation in such programs.

I. The defendants and their co-conspirators provided "IFR Trust Promissory Notes" and other documents to investors, to document the sale of securities to such investors.

J. Defendant WILCOXSON used bank accounts opened in the name of IFR Trust, JRAM, and his accountant, C. WILLIAM GORDIN, to collect funds from investors in connection with the sales of securities. The defendants directed investors and sales agents to move funds into the bank accounts controlled by the defendants by sending cashier's checks or money orders payable to entities controlled by the defendants, or by wire transferring funds into bank accounts controlled by the defendants.

2. Beginning on a date no later than approximately April 1998, and continuing through the date of this superseding indictment, in the Eastern District of California and elsewhere, defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH did devise and intend to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud investors in an investment program marketed by defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON, ROXANNE ALBAUGH and by others, as described in paragraph five of Count One of this superseding indictment, and to obtain money from them by means of materially false and fraudulent pretenses, representations and promises.

WAYS AND MEANS

3. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH undertook the actions described in the allegations set forth in paragraph nine of Count One of this superseding indictment, which allegations are realleged and incorporated herein.

4. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH discouraged investors from withdrawing funds from the investment program.

5. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that, although defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH knew that no actual cash profit on the investors' investments was being received from any European trading program as had been represented to investors, defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH took the following actions:

A. Defendant LARRY W. WILCOXSON continued to accept new investors into the program knowing that such investors believed that profits would be generated from a trading program, at a time when he well knew that he was not receiving any actual cash return on the investments from any European trading program.

B. Defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH implemented a "ponzi" scheme, in which they paid investors a "return" on their investments from the funds which those and other investors had invested, intending to mislead them into believing that their investments were profitable, at a time when they well knew that no cash profits on the investments were in fact being generated from any trading program.

C. Defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH created false account statements for investors, and directed others to create false account statements, which account statements purported to show extremely high profits on the investors' investments in the IFR Trust/JRAM program, and provided such false account statements to investors through the mail.

D. Defendants LARRY W. WILCOXSON and ROXANNE ALBAUGH represented to investors that the trading program was working, that profits were being generated, and that payouts would be made, at a time when they well knew that no profits were actually being received on the investments from any trading program.

6. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that, defendant LARRY W. WILCOXSON took other steps to mislead investors, in order to conceal the scheme, to lull investors into inaction, to prevent investors from seeking the withdrawal of funds from the program, and to prevent inquiry into the scheme.

7. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that, defendant LARRY W. WILCOXSON told investors, and instructed others to tell investors, that the investors had to set up offshore trust accounts in the Bahamas to receive their profits from the investment program, which offshore trust accounts were sold to investors for $3,000 per account.

8. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud that, after the indictment in this case, defendant LARRY W.
