LETTER TO CONSUMERS

On September 18, 2012, the Federal Trade Commission filed an action against American Mortgage Consulting Group, LLC, d.b.a. American Mortgage Group and American Mortgage Consulting, Home Guardian Management Solutions, LLC, d.b.a. Home Guardian Solutions, its affiliates and subsidiaries. The U.S. District Court issued a Temporary Restraining Order and appointed Robb Evans of Robb Evans & Associates LLC as Temporary Receiver to take over temporary possession and control of the Receivership Defendants. The Court later issued a Preliminary Injunction appointing Robb Evans & Associates LLC as Temporary Receiver.

The Temporary Receiver strongly urges you to call or make contact with your home lender, tell them that you want to take over the loan modification discussion and process, and request your lender to use the documents already supplied. Ask your lender if a foreclosure sale date has been scheduled. You should also tell the lender that your agent has been sued by the Federal Trade Commission and its loan modification activities have stopped. The Temporary Receiver recommends you take a positive and proactive approach and agree to supply any missing information to the lender.

You can call around-the-clock to (888) 995-HOPE and also get information online about HUD Approved Housing Counseling Agencies and available free assistance regarding mortgage relief negotiation.
