Report of Receiver's Activities and Receivership Assets
November 02, 2013 through March 31, 2014

On October 10, 2013 this court appointed Robb Evans and Associates LLC as Receiver of the above listed businesses. In the Receiver's first report filed November 1, 2013 the Receiver described taking control of the receivership entities and the results of analyzing the available accounting and financial records, business records and documents, and communicating directly with account debtors and entities reportedly holding consigned or assigned merchandise. The Receiver described in substantial detail the contradictions and conflicts between the financial positions represented in the business records and the responses from customers and coin broker/dealers.

The Receiver stated that as of November 1, 2013, the Receivership Estate was insolvent with liabilities believed to exceed $20 million and no assets. Regretfully, that conclusion remains intact. Since the first report, the Receiver has uncovered some additional liabilities and taken possession of a few meager assets that can be liquidated.

On January 24, 2014 this court issued an additional Order also appointing Robb Evans & Associates LLC as the Receiver over the personal assets of defendants Todd Griffiths and David Hunt. This report describes below the status of the personal assets of the defendants. The Receiver has confirmed that entities owned by defendant David Todd Griffiths, and litigation he is currently prosecuting, are only remotely capable of generating any cash for the receivership estate.

Current Status of Business Assets Discussed in the First Report

Legacy TA Fund Accounts Receivable Aging Detail

The Receiver's first report described locating an Accounts Receivable Aging Schedule as of 10/03/13, with supporting details, of the receivership entity Legacy Tangible Asset Fund, LLC (Legacy TA Fund). After analysis, discussion, and review, the Receiver believed the receivable details and the backup documentation were primarily valid and current. However, the Receiver reported that his initial contacts with account debtors revealed that about 97% of the $2.2 million of receivables were uncollectable.

The Receiver's final conclusion, after additional investigation and analysis, is the Accounts Receivable totaling $2,161,174 listed in the financial records are worthless.

Legacy TA Fund Inventory Placed on Consignment

The Receiver also described locating a Coins Out On Memo schedule as of 10/03/13, with supporting details, of the receivership entity Legacy TA Fund. The Receiver believed the consignment details and the backup documentation were primarily valid and current. However, the Receiver reported that three auctioneer / coin dealers listed in the books and records as holding 97% of the consigned inventory denied holding any coins.

The Receiver’s final conclusion, after additional investigation and analysis, is 58 recently located consigned coins, most not listed in the financial records, were recently sold by customer 10043 for $314,000, but are stated to be subject to larger unresolved claims. As further described below, the Receiver has demanded information and documents to validate the unresolved claims. The balance of the consignment inventory listed in the books and records does not exist.

Other Financial Information

The financial information from the accounting and business management systems that the Receiver previously discussed in the first report has not changed or been supplemented with new information, other than discussed above.

The Receiver previously reported that the balance sheet produced from the QuickBooks accounting software for CT Group as of October 31, 2013 shows total liabilities of $1.7 million and deficit net worth of $799,000. Cash was stated at $5.1 million negative, which includes $4.4 million of payments for expenses entered but with checks not printed or released.

The Receiver also previously reported the balance sheet produced from the NetSuite business management and accounting system for Legacy TA Fund as of October 31, 2013 shows total liabilities of $1.9 million and $1.0 million as customer deposits. Net worth is stated at $3.3 million and includes $7.8 million of capital from three partners, and retained earnings of $4.5 million negative. The original capital accounts of the three partners include $4.4 million from an individual and $3.0 million from the plaintiff, Donald Parker.

The income statement for the ten months of 2013 shows Total Income of $3.6 million, Cost of Sales of $7.1 million, Expenses of $400,000, and Net Loss of $3.9 million.

The balance sheet includes $54,000 of cash, which other documents show to be about zero, and $2.2 million of Accounts Receivable are worthless. Inventory is stated to be $3.0 million which is different from the $5.2 million of inventory on consignment discussed above, and also found to be worthless except for $314,000 subject to greater claims. There are no other assets except for the disputed $314,000.

Liabilities of the Receivership Entities

The introduction to this report stated that the Receiver previously stated the Receivership Estate was insolvent and had liabilities that may exceed $20 million. After reviewing and considering liabilities in the accounting software, amounts written on various schedules, and documents describing liabilities to others, the Receiver believes the following liabilities of the Receivership entities currently exist.

- Claim from the IRS for $123,000 for unpaid payroll tax withholdings;
- Legacy TA Fund listed customer deposits of $1.0 million;
- Legacy TA Fund three capital accounts of $7.8 million;
- A recent “List of Dollars Needed” totaling $2.2 million;
- CT Group liabilities of $1.7 million (may be partially in the “List”);
- CT Group $4.4 million of checks entered and not released;
- Other liabilities of about $400,000 described by defendant Griffiths;
- An additional $5.0 million claimed by the plaintiff Donald Parker;

This list of liabilities, some of which may be duplicated, totals $23,273,000.

Additional Potential Assets

58 Recently Located Consigned Coins

On March 19, 2014, a Consignor Report dated March 17, 2014 arrived via postal mail at the Receiver's office. The envelope indicated that customer number 10043 mailed the report on March 18th. The report lists 58 coins consigned by Rare Coin Management, David Todd Griffiths Manager, with the former business premises address in Irvine. The redacted Consignor Report is attached under Tab 2 and does not provide any details or dates when the coins were consigned. Only nine of the coins are listed on the Coins Out On Memo schedule, and were shown as consigned to customer 10031.

The report includes a "Breakdown for Sale 78 Consignments." The Breakdown schedules advances of $382,500 and interest due of $16,277, which are deducted from the gross sale proceeds of $314,000. Combined with a claimed auction deficit from sale 75, the auctioneer claims it is owed $120,694 after retaining the net auction proceeds of $314,000.

Since October 21, 2013 the Receiver has instructed this auctioneer numerous times to not distribute any Receivership assets or auction proceeds (which would include advances on expected proceeds) to the receivership defendants, including to the individual defendants. After receiving and reviewing the Consignor Report, the Receiver demanded documents and information including legible consignment/assignment agreements for the coins that Rare Coin Management consigned to the firm, legible signed documents supporting the advances of $382,500, and legible copies of checks or wire transfers used to pay out the advanced funds of $382,500.

The Receiver will continue to aggressively follow-up to receive the requested information and determine the rightful valid ownership of the proceeds from the auction sales of the 58 coins.

Plaintiff Litigation Filed by Receivership & Non-Receivership Entities

In its first report the Receiver reported that the individual defendant David Todd Griffiths and his attorney described two pending civil actions seeking $3.0 to $4.0 million of damages. Based on the lack of any substantial progress or resolution in the last six months, and a default judgment entered in one action, the Receiver has concluded the pending actions are only remotely possible of generating any cash for the receivership estate. However, as long as the receivership is active, the Receiver will continue to monitor the results and outcome of the pending actions without generating substantial estate expense.

Miscellaneous Collectibles Located at the Business Premises

The Receiver transported to its office from the business premises dozens of old comic books, several dozen civil war era newspapers, and mountings of currency taken from the sunken Andrea Doria cruise ship. The Receiver located an 1864 two cent coin apparently improperly graded by a third-party certification firm. The Receiver also recovered an extensive stamp collection pledged as collateral for a $22,500 loan to an individual.

David Todd Griffiths acknowledged he had accumulated the comic books, newspapers, and currency mountings over the past several years. The total value is probably less than $50-$75,000. Mr. Griffiths offered to assist the Receiver's office to locate qualified buyers and evaluate offers to purchase the collectible items. The Receiver's office will determine if the mounted currency should be graded in order to enhance its sale value.

The Receiver learned that the CT Group claim against the third-party certification firm for $122,000 was settled in June, 2013. The Receiver is communicating with the attorney for the grading firm to understand the details of the settlement. The Receiver has been in contact with the owner of the stamp collection to arrange a sale of enough of the collection to pay off the $22,000 loan.

Personal Assets of the Individual receivership defendants

David Todd Griffiths:

The Receiver previously located and studied various documents and schedules in the office premises. The records indicate that David Todd Griffiths owns several receivership and non-receivership entities. Several of the entities are startup ventures. After the court Order expanded the receivership to include the personal assets of the individual defendants, the Receiver discussed the details of the entities with defendant Griffiths and his attorney.

The value of the non-receivership entities appears to be marginal and extremely uncertain at this time. Possibly in the future, consistent with the possible outcome of the litigation described above, entities such as the University of Rare Coins, LLC, Toddco Management, LLC, Freedom Entertainment Group, LLC, and TheRevolutions, Inc. may become valuable. Presently, they have no assets, and in their present condition, are probably worthless.

David Todd Griffiths claims he has no cash, no other assets other than a car, and his home has no equity and is encumbered with a mortgage that is seriously delinquent. He states that currently he is existing with loans and gifts from friends.

David Hunt

David Hunt reports nominal cash offset by credit card and tax debts. His single-family residence valued at $580,000 has first and second deed of trust totaling $175,000. His income in 2012 and 2013 was about $110,000 each year.

The Receiver has instructed the individual defendants, and confirmed with their attorneys, to spend only reasonable, ordinary, and proper amounts on living expenses and to report any significant increases in income or in the value of any assets. The attorneys have confirmed their clients understand the Order issued by the court and the Receiver's instructions.

Financial Report

The Receiver's report of Administrative Expenses by Month and Fund Balance is attached under Tab 1. The report details the meager funds of $1,963 turned over from the bank accounts of the receivership entities. The report also details the expenses of the receivership by month including the Receiver's fees, the fees of its senior and accounting staff, and the Receiver's out-of-pocket expenses.

For the five months from October 2013 through February 2014 the receivership incurred total expenses of $44,489. As the report details, the Receiver's fees totaled $26,627, the fees for the senior and accounting staff totaled $11,036 and out-of-pocket expenses totaled $4,106. Behind the report are the individual detailed timesheets for each member or staff person describing the activities completed for the receivership estate.

The receivership estate is currently insolvent, with cash of $1,963 and unpaid administrative expenses of $44,489. As detailed below, the Receiver will request the court to direct the plaintiff to provide sufficient funds to pay the unpaid administrative expenses of the receivership estate. In the future, if the Receiver recovers funds in excess of future administrative expenses it will repay amounts advanced by the plaintiff before considering any distribution plan to creditors.

Requests of the Court

The Receiver respectfully requests the court for the following:

- Approve the Receiver's fees and expenses of $44,488.91;
- Direct the plaintiff to provide at least $44,488.91 to fund the unpaid administrative expenses of the receivership estate;
- If the court wishes, direct the Receiver to execute a Receiver's Certificate in favor of the plaintiff for funds advanced;
- Authorize the Receiver to issue subpoenas for records and documents when demands to produce needed information and documents are ignored.

Respectively submitted,
